

FOR WHICH THE DEMOCRATS ARE RESPONSIBLE

NOVEMBER 2, 1906,

LEST WE FORGET

This time a year ago Hawali was confronted with the prospect of free trade with the Philippines; in fact, it looked well-nigh certain as if that measure was about to pass in Congress. It finally did pass the House of Representatives January 19th, of this year, by an overwhelming majority and finally, to the intense relief of Hawali, it was strangled in Committee in the Senate.

Who killed that measure? Primarily, the beet and cane sugar men on the mainland.

What part did Hawaii play in killing it? A part so small that but for the sturdy speech of F. M. Hatch in behalf of Hawaii before the House Conmittee having the bill under consideration, Hawaii's attitude would have been very close to a pusillanimous one.

What was the matter with Hawaii that she took a hesitating course ! A number of our leading men claimed that it was no use to fight the Philippine Bill, it was bound to win anyhow, and we had better not antagonize the Administration and the Republican party. Who was prominent in this contention? W. O. Smith, and he had to be whipped into line on the proposition that finally prevailed among the planters that the Philippine Bill should be opposed.

In the Advertiser of January 21st, of this year, W. O. Smith says: "I was opposed to the attack on the Philippine Bill in "the first place, but I was persuaded against my will to agree "to it; now I am sorry."

What would have been the result if W. O. Smith's program had prevailed? The sugar securities of Hawaii here and abroad would have been on a perpetual blacklist, Philippine raw sugar would have been flooding the Pacific Coast, and the Sugar Factors Company would have been fighting for its very life against the trust bleeding the sugar plantations of this country to supply her coffers in that fight.

What has been the result because the Smith policy of non-resistance was dumped into the waste-basket, where it belonged? The Sugar Factors Company which is fighting the battle of Hawaii to get a fair and full price for our sugar is in a prosperous and growing condition. Hawaii's market is being extended far east of the Pacific Slope and the sugar trust is getting decidedly the worst of it; and why? Because the trust has not the raw sugar. The Sugar Factors Company has the sugar. If the Philippine free trade had prevailed the trust would have had all the raw sugar it wanted from the Philippines on practically equal terms with Hawaiian sugar.

How did the work of the beet sugar men against the Philippines compar with Hawaii's work on that measure? Comparisons are odious. The beet like that of Boysen. Shultz, he claims and cane sugar men long before the issue arose sent trusted and skillful has been living at Mitchell's lodging agents into the Philippines who month after month gathered together sta tistics and information that finally riddled the Taft program for free trade.

As far as Hawaii is concerned it was lucky that we escaped the disgrace of an out-and-out acquiescence in a measure that was unquestionably a deadly menace to our welfare.

How does the Cuban question now compare with the Philippine question It is the same old question.

What is Hawaii's course to be? More pusillanimous than it was on Philippine free trade bill if counsels like those offered by W. O. Smith are

One could hardly believe that Smith, after the wretched advice he gave twelve months ago in regard to the Philippine bill, would be willing to stand forth as a self-appointed prophet to point the way under the same conditions which threaten from Cuba.

When the reader thinks where Smith would have landed Hawali if his counsels had prevailed; where we would be today but for the sturdy an! aggressive fight of the sugar men on the mainland, verily, we feel tempted to say, as W. O. Smith said to McClanahan in his letter the other day:

We will not dignify your position by debating it with you." Mind you, the same argument was put up against opposing the Philippine bill as is used now as to Cuba. Mr. Smith's statement about the absurd ity of our "shaking our puny fist" at the rest of the country has merely been dug up out of the debris left from his program presented a year age inviting Hawaii to lay down in the fight against the Philippine bill. The same plea against "slapping the Republican party in the face" and so on ad nauseam did duty then as now. It was repudiated then; we hope it will meet the same fate now.

IT'S UP TO BRECKONS

Our readers will remember that a short while ago John Emmeluth pullished a protest in the Star against the registration of one Norval B. Young by the Board of Registration, because on his own admission he had been less than two years in the Territory. Emmeluth then stated that when Norval B. Young presented himself for registration his right to register was challenged and the omnipresent Sam Johnson took a hand immediately and claimed that the man bad a right to vote, retired to his office ostensibly to consult the law, and came out announcing that he had telephone to Breckons and that Breckons said that the man had a right to vote and to be registered. whereupon the Board of Registration meekly submitted and the man's name was enrolled. Upon publication of this matter, which gave notice to Mr. Young that he would vote at his peril this November, it seems the Board of Registration quietly dropped his name.

Now, what we want to know is: Did Sam Johnson really telephone to Breckons, and did Breckons really hand out that raw opinion against the express provision of the statute requiring two years' residence in the Territory, or did Sam Johnson do no telephoning, but administered this story to the Board of Registration as a result of his own fertile imagination? How is that, Robbie Breckons and Sammy Johnson? Please explain. Was it a case of a fool lie or a fool legal opinion, which? It is two to one that it was one of those mental efforts of Sam Johnson's that are rapidly making him famous, and that when the matter was published in the paper Breckons quietly tipped the wink to Sam Johnson to pull that man off the Register or he would have to admit that he had never heard about the matter, eltizens have been selected to act as inspectors, much to the chagrin of the Several who have heard of the arrest "ring". The electric light is to supersede the smoky, ill-smelling kerosene of the two men and know them both denounce the action taken as an outnot unfriendly rays to the sinister designs of the political desperado, to rage, and say that sufficient evidence whose tender care the fate at the polls of the "non-machine" candidate was committed. It was a case of men loving darkness rather than light because their deeds were evil. But now the light is being let in on all sides and the internal workings of "the machine" are being revealed in all their awful reality. The Governor's attitude in this matter is worthy of commendation He has certainly displayed considerable moral courage in coming out and defying an organized and intrenched gang of political free-booters with a scope of power so great and subtle that it can dictate the nominations of a

THE MONITOR CALLED HIM DOWN

When advocating the support of the straight Republican ticket the other night W. W. Harris' conscience got the better of his vocal organ and the curtain was abruptly rung down on his effort.

JACK GOT HIS IRISH UP

Just think of the audacity of asking Jack Lucas to preside at a wake without any corpse! No wonder Jack got mad!

W. O. Smith's argument on the Cuban question, stripped of its verticage is an invitation to do nothing. Kubio blantly and openly takes the same postion. It is a do nothing argument against de-all-you can.

SAY REGISTRATIONS NOT FRAUDULEN

No. 17. Claim Schuliz And Boy sen Registered Legally

Andrew Boysen, one of the men a rested on an indictment of the Gra Jury, for fraudulent registration, greatly exercised over the predicam which he finds himself, especially view of the fact that there is, he say against him, Boysen is a civil service employe, and is afraid that his arrest may cause him to lose his place. He was a dele gate to the convention.
